St. Petersburg
International
Gas Forum
is the effective
communication platform
brings together representatives of the global gas community.

The Forum has been taking place in St. Petersburg since 2011. It is one of the most high profile business events in the oil and gas sector. Participated by global gas leaders, Russian and international industry associations, scientific institutions and analytical centres, as well as officials of Russia's specialised ministries and agencies, the event comprises an extensive convention program complimented with the exhibition, where top companies can showcase their advanced solutions and promising projects, covering the entire process chain of the gas industry.
